ABOUT LMGC

La Martiniere Girls' College, through its continued dedication to pioneering education and maintaining school traditions, has earned its reputation as one of the leading educational institutions in India. The school was founded in accordance with the will of Major General Claude Martin, a Frenchman who accepted the post of Second Lieutenant in the East India Company's army, when the French domination in India came to end. Through the efforts of the staff and the student, La Martiniere Girls' College has been ranked 1st in Uttar Pradesh and 10th in India on the list of 'Education World India School Rankings 2016'.

The former Principal of La Martiniere Girls College, Late Mrs. F. Abraham, was an exemplary lady and a dynamic leader who always encouraged the students to strive for excellence. It is through her support that the MUN Club of our school was established in the year 2014. Our current Principal, Mrs. A. Dass, is a remarkable and far sighted woman who lays immense stress on academics as well as co-curricular activities. She has been responsible for a number of educational, social and cultural initiatives that have benefitted the students and the community at large, greatly.

The La Martiniere Girls' College Model United Nations Club aims at training students in skills such as public speaking, debating, critical thinking, teamwork and leadership. Each year, our girls participate in a number of MUN conferences across the country and make the school proud by winning a plethora of awards in the same. Over the last few years, the MUN club has become an integral part of the college as we firmly believe that the world community today needs a group of people with an international outlook to solve problems, and that Model United Nations provides the best platform to instill these qualities in students.

THE UN AND MUNs

The United Nations (UN) is an intergovernmental organization established on 24 October 1945 to promote international cooperation. It was founded to replace the League of Nations following World War II and to prevent another conflict. When it was founded, the UN had 51 Member States; there are now 193. Most nations are members of the UN and send diplomats to the headquarters to hold meetings and make decisions about the global issues.

Model United Nations, also known as Model UN or MUN, is an educational simulation and/or academic activity in which students can learn about diplomacy, international relations, and the United Nations. MUN involves and teaches researching, public speaking, debating, and writing skills, in addition to critical thinking, teamwork, and leadership abilities.

ला-मार्टिनियर गल्ट्स कॉलेज के तीन दिवसीय मॉडल यूनाइटेड नेशंस का समाप्ति

The La Martiniere Girls' College Model United Nations Club, aims at training students to become future leaders and to bring about a change in the world. The club lives up to its moto: UnitasJustitiaSpes, meaning Unity, Justice and Hope. The Club provides training to the students and helps them acquire leadership qualities in handling critical situations and become more confident. It helps the students to be great debaters and public speakers.

Students joke that “MUN is F-U-N,” and it’s true – that’s why it works so well. Students attend Model UN conferences because it’s fun – they just happen to learn something along the way. And when students have fun while learning, what they learn is more likely to stick.

In 2015, La Martiniere Girls' Model United Nations held its first session. Delegates from all over the country had come. It was an immense success. In the beginning 2016 the club organized training sessions for the students of classes 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th and selected more girls to be a part of this Club, following which the Club organized the second session of La Martiniere Girls' Model United Nations in June.

OUR ACHIEVEMENTS

The students of the club participated in a total of ten Model United Nations Conferences from the month of May to the month of December and bagged a lot of prizes.

The first conference of Jaipuria Model United Nations was held in May, where Mitali Bhasin was awarded with a Best Delegate Trophy. Aayra Angrish was awarded a Special Mention while most of the other participating students won a Verbal Mention.

Next was the Indian International Model United Nations, where Vaishnavi Dube won the Best Reporter prize along with two other students who won prizes just the same.

Next, a delegation of fifteen participated in the Delhi Public School Model United Nations where Vanshika Sharma, Shivangi Banerjee were awarded a High Commendation while Aadhyaa Rastogi, Joita Banerjee and Vanshika Agarwal were awarded with a Special Mention and Devanshi Srivastava was recognized with a Verbal Mention. Aena Asif won the Best Reporter.

A group of five attended the Cathedral Model United Nations, one of the most prestigious MUN in the country, in the month of August. It was an enthralling experience for all of them and it helped to boost their confidence to a next level.

In the month of November a delegation participated in the La Martiniere Model United Nations where Joeita Banerjee was awarded with a High Commendation meanwhile Devyanshi Agarwal, Vanshika Sharma, Khadija Safwi and Vaishnavi Dube were awarded with a Special Mention.

Mrs. Ambili is one of those teachers who want to instil the subject in you, not just acquaint you with it.

Mrs. Ambili is one of the best experiences that Class Eleven treats you to. She is one of those teachers who want to instil the subject in you, not just acquaint you with it. She wants all her students to be politically aware more than just being academically accurate. Being an articulate speaker, her lectures engender within you an urge to question political systems, their working, and each and every minute detail of the government. She encourages you to think beyond the pages of the book, quite literally, too, because unless the pencil in your hand is constantly scribbling on every bit of paper you can find, you miss out on literal verbal gold. The method of teaching adopted by her is equally unconventional – she engages the class in rounds of a lively debate so as to facilitate a thorough understanding of not only the concept itself but all its pros and cons. She's one of those teachers who never pesters you to score a perfect hundred but tries to ensure that each one of her students live up to their potential.

Apart from being almost always impeccably well-dressed, Mrs. Ambili is also well-known in the school for the ardent support she renders to MUNs. She was instrumental in the establishment of the school's very first MUN Club, and puts in her heart and soul into making sure that her girls excel at each conference they attend. This is due, in part, to her belief that in today's world it has become almost mandatory to foster a keen sense of the world's political scenario and diplomacy, along with great significance being given to public speaking. It is due to her hard work and support that LMGMUN has been a huge success over the years.

INTRODUCING THE COMMITTEES...

UNITED NATIONS ENVIRONMENT ASSEMBLY

The United Nations Environment Assembly (UNEA) is the world's highest level decision making body on the environment. UNEA enjoys the universal membership of 193 UN Member States and the full involvement of major groups and stakeholders. UNEA reviews the world's environmental situation in order to ensure that emerging global environmental problems are given appropriate and adequate consideration by Governments.

Climate change is one of humanity's greatest challenges, affecting both current and future generations. Over the last century, atmospheric concentrations of greenhouse gases have increased drastically, causing a rise in the average global temperature. Since the impacts of climate change are far reaching, adaptation strategies must encompass a wide range of policy areas and economic sectors. The developing nations, who have the least capacity to adapt, are suffering the worst impacts of climate change. Therefore, it is imperative that the world's response strategies and adaptation policies should give special priority to the developing countries.

The Montreal Protocol, finalized in 1987, is a global agreement to protect the stratospheric ozone layer by phasing out the production and consumption of ozone depleting substances. It is the first treaty to achieve universal ratification by all countries in the world. Since 1989, its parties have continued to adapt the regime it established in response to scientific evidence and technological developments. In addition to adjustments and amendments to the Montreal Protocol, the Parties to the Protocol meet annually and take a variety of decisions aimed at enabling effective implementation of this important legal instrument.

As a delegate in the United Nations Environment Assembly, one is expected to articulately look into the recent developments in the global climate and deliberate upon concrete reforms which could provide a platform for a sustainable environment.

AGENDA

- A) FOSTERING DEVELOPING COUNTRIES' CAPACITIES FOR CLIMATE CHANGE
- B) REVISION AND REFORMS IN THE MONTREAL PROTOCOL FOR THE PREVENTION OF OZONE DEPLETION

SOCIAL, CULTURAL AND HUMANITARIAN COMMITTEE

AGENDA

A) SPECIAL PROTECTION OF CHILDREN DURING ARMED CONFLICT UNDER THE GENEVA CONVENTION REGIME.

B) REDUCING THE DEBILITATING IMPACT OF POST CONFLICT PSYCHIATRIC SYNDROMES WITH SPECIAL EMPHASIS ON MILITARY PERSONNEL

The Social, Cultural and Humanitarian Committee is the third general assembly of the United Nations. It is tasked with a broad mandate surrounding social, humanitarian and human rights issues from around the world. The SOCHUM committee at LMGMUN 2017 puts forward the discussion for the 'Special protection of children during armed conflict under the Geneva Convention Regime' and 'Reducing the debilitating impact of post conflict psychiatric syndromes with special emphasis on military personnel'.

The aim of this committee is to examine and evaluate the rules under the Geneva Convention Regime that relate to the protection of children, perhaps the most vulnerable sections of society, that suffer devastating and inhumane treatment as a result of armed conflicts. Children are the primary victims of armed conflict among civilians. They are both principal targets, as well as, to an increased extent, its instruments. The main thrust of this agenda is to present the numerous provisions of the international humanitarian law which is established to support and develop the principles of special protection for children in times of armed conflict.

The main theme of the second agenda at hand is the incapability of the war-torn states to providing

JOINT CRISIS COMMITTEE

JCC JOINT CRISIS DIRECTORS

AMAY LAKHMANI

An ex-student of La Martiniere, Kolkata, Amay has participated in numerous MUNs around the country. An exceptional vocalist, you will often find him waking through the nights, writing out moving lyrics for his band performances. Amay is an incredibly fun member to have on a Secretariat, and with his flair for the dramatic and incredibly fun-loving attitude, he's sure to be a Crisis Director you'll remember, so, be sure to catch an autograph while you can!

Just finished with his schooling, he is all set to move to Berkeley, California for his higher education. Taking a deep interest in writing, this self-proclaimed 'master of puns' will never fail to provide comic relief in even the worst of situations. He feels that MUNs help in the overall development of one's personality and looks forward for a sensational session of LMGMUN.

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

The intelligence agency of the United States, known as the Central Intelligence Agency, is a civilian foreign intelligence service which gathers information which the US leaders need to keep the country safe. This agency's primary focus is to provide intelligence to the President and the Cabinet.

The Gulf War was a war waged by coalition forces from 35 nations, led by the United States against Iraq after it invaded Kuwait. The moment Iraq invaded Kuwait, CIA officers in Washington and around the world worked to provide intelligence support for the soldiers, sailors, airmen, and Marines deployed to the Gulf. Throughout 1990, CIA closely monitored Iraqi President Saddam Hussein's political and military moves. CIA notified US policymakers and the US military when, in July, Iraq began deploying forces near Kuwait's border. The main battles were aerial and ground combat within Iraq, Kuwait and bordering areas of Saudi Arabia.

In today's world, we cannot rule out the possibilities of such happenings occurring again, therefore, it is necessary to take up this agenda. A delegate with a good sense of oration and active presence of mind is sure to stand out in this committee.

THE MEDELLIN CARTEL

CONSTANT CRISIS COMMITTEE

CHAIR-
ADITYA AGARWAL

Aditya enjoys classic rock music, dancing and playing the guitar (not to mention watching Narcos!). He is really excited about being a part of LMGMUN 2017 and advises the committee to remember "Plata O Plomo"

MODERATOR-SIDDHARTHA BEDI

Siddhartha is currently pursuing his undergraduate degree in History from Hansraj College. A crisis specialist, Siddhartha always tries to incorporate his interests into the crisis arcs he develops, which include travelling and history and a passion for dramatics. Do not be distracted by the deep baritone of his voice and try to not focus on his 'fashion statement' hairstyles either. Be on your guard around him, or you may miss out on the priceless puns that are thrown your way every minute.

The Medellin Cartel was an organized network of drug suppliers and smugglers originating in the city of Medellin, Colombia. Founded by Pablo Escobar, the group smuggled tonnes of cocaine across porous borders of countries all over the world. The world was wonderstruck by their capability to sneak right under the noses of the police and security departments. Fascinated, several star studded films and television series like Pablo of Medellin and Narcos have hit the screens.

The cartel was one of the world's most feared organisations, having committed around 3000 violent murders. While the cartel had massive cash flows and control over much of the Colombian government, obstacles still forced them to constantly work towards maintaining power and defending itself. Legal barriers, such as those of the uncorrupted parts of the Colombian government and the US Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), threatened the cartel's operations. As Colombian drug traders continued supplying Americans with cocaine and other illicit substances, the US government had more at stake and were driven to get more involved for the sake of its citizens' well-being.

At LMGMUN 2017, this unconventional committee will discuss the drug problem, mostly due to cocaine, that waged throughout the late 20th century. The delegates will find solutions to the scorpion, Pablo Escobar, and the life ruining sting of his cartel.

INTERNATIONAL CRIMINAL POLICE ORGANIZATION

AGENDA

A) CONTROLLING THE BLACK MARKET TRADE OF CIVIL WAR ANTIQUES

B) TACKLING THE ILLICIT TRADE OF SMALL ARMS AND LIGHT WEAPONS

INTERPOL is the world's largest police organization with 190 member countries. Its primary role is to assist law enforcement agencies around the world in combating all forms of transnational crime and terrorism. It is an independent organization and not a unit or part of any other national or international body. INTERPOL works closely with a range of international partners such as the United Nations and the European Union and has established liaison offices in New York and Brussels. The INTERPOL committee at LMGMUN 2017 puts forward two raging agendas before the delegates, namely, 'Controlling the Black-Market Trade of Civil War antiques and Tracking the Illicit Trade of Small Arms and Light Weapons'.

Controlling the trafficking of cultural artefacts and precious antiques in the wake of civil war has long been a challenge to law enforcement officers, both domestically and internationally. The maintenance of cultural property within its original borders is crucial to the preservation of national heritage and history. Far too often, when cultural antiquities are carried across borders, they originate from developing nations trapped in conflict and end up in museums in developed nations, often Western nations to be displayed and admired. The illicit traffic in cultural

BHOOMIK SHARMA

Hailing from Mansa, Bhoomik completed his Bachelor's of Technology in the area of Mechanical Engineering at Jaypee University of Engineering and Technology in 2016. He then joined Ernst and Young LLP as an Intern in Gurgaon where he is now continuing as a resource. Bhoomik, who loves to cook, travel and eat, is a voracious reader and an aspiring writer. He has been associated with LMGMUN since its maiden edition, watching it grow year by year.

KARISHMA

From being the Literary Club President of her school, Loreto Convent, to possessing a growing passion for MUNs, Karishma's relationship with her work has always happened to be one generating an illuminating experience. Karishma is recognised for her magnificent performances in different circuits of MUNs where she has climbed up the ladder of success. Passionate about travelling, meeting new people and drawing on their savoir faire, she loves to lose track of time while reading and listening to music.

UNITED NATIONS SECURITY COUNCIL

AGENDA

OPEN AGENDA/NAGORNO-KARABAKH CONFLICT

CHAIR- NEEL DUTTAROY

Neel, pursuing Master's in International Relations, has been participating in MUNs for the last four years in the capacity of Executive Board as well as Secretary General in five different conferences. He plans to pursue a career in policy making with special emphasis on Legislative Research. He believes that simulations like MUNs help in building analytical skills which is needed for an individual to create a mark for themselves.

VICE CHAIR- RAHUL DAS

MUN conferences, for Rahul, have always been a forum which helps young minds to become more aware of the factors that shape this world. Rahul, who began participating in MUNs in class 10, believes that no two MUN conferences are the same and there's always something new that you can come across, irrespective of your role in the conference. An ardent fan of Chelsea, Edward Norton and Green Day, he is just finished with school and is really excited about the future at the moment!

RAPPORTEUR- RAGHAV WADHWA

Raghav Wadhwa is a student from New Delhi. He started MUNning two years back and has been a part of more than 15 conferences since then. He loves being a part of crisis simulations and is a huge potterhead. He believes that MUNs help in increasing your knowledge of global issues and enhance your leadership skills. Apart from being a National level cricket player, he drums, cooks and writes in his free time.

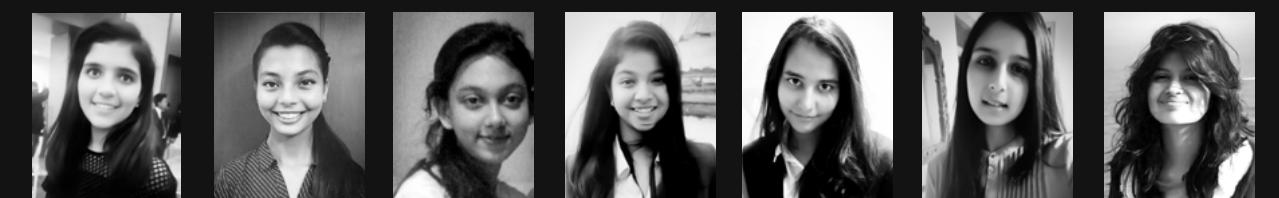

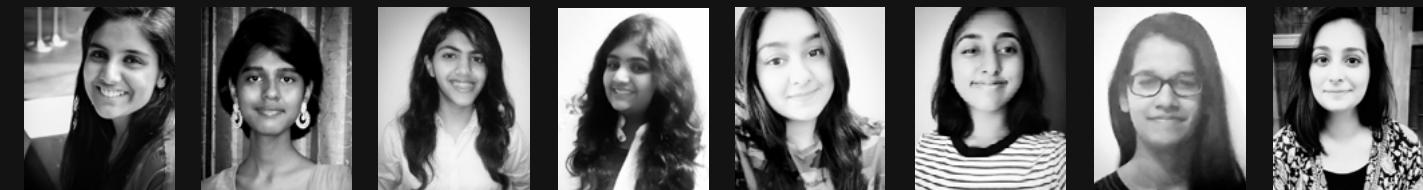

The United Nations Security Council is the most powerful and dynamic organ of the United Nations Organisation. It is primarily responsible for maintaining peace and security in the world. It recognises issues which pose a threat to world peace and security and takes the lead in solving them. However, if the situation escalates out of its hands, the Security Council also has the power to take military action.

In today's conflict ridden world the importance of the Security Council has increased manifold. That is why at LMGMUN 2017, the UNSC has an open agenda. An open agenda is one where the delegates get to decide what they will be discussing in the coming days. Thus, the power to choose their agenda and discuss what they feel is most important in today's world, rests solely with the delegates.

The UNSC at LMGMUN 2017 also has a reserve agenda- The Nagorno-Karabakh Conflict in case the delegates cannot decide upon an agenda. The landlocked mountainous region of Nagorno-Karabakh is the subject of an unresolved dispute between Azerbaijan, in which it lies, and its ethnic Armenian majority, backed by neighbouring Armenia. The dispute began in the year 1988, towards the end of the erstwhile Soviet Union, and has been raging on ever since. The repeated ceasefire violations from both sides have escalated the conflict to the brink of destabilising the southern Caucasus region. Therefore, it is necessary that this conflict is resolved soon peacefully and amicably.

LAST YEARS' HIGHLIGHTS

This is how we do it

The first session of La Martiniere Girls' Model United Nations was held on 13th and 14th June, 2015 during the summer vacation. On the 12th of June, an orientation was held for all delegates in the college auditorium, so as to brief them about the rules of procedure which would be followed in the committees during the days of the conference. The Secretariat for the conference, which included Valerie Agarwal (Secretary General), Sonakshi Grover (Deputy Secretary General) with Mrs. Anjana Ambili (Senior School Political Science teacher) as the head of faculty advisor, had put in months of effort in organising the conference. Much help was provided by LMGAA (La Martiniere Girls Alumni Association) in financial matters. The International Press for LMGMUN 2015, headed by Sonakshi Srivastava and Swati Singh, brought together 'The Spectator', the official press release for the conference. The first edition discussed a variety of pressing issues like, the UNW committee, which dealt with prostitutes' livelihoods and discussion of the issues and protection of refugees in UNHCR. The second session of La Martiniere Girls' Model United Nations was held from the 10th of June to the 12th of June, 2016 during the summer vacation, much like the last session. It started with an orientation for all the delegates in the Hotel Silvette, which was conducted by the Secretary General, so as to brief them about the rules of procedure.

The conference was held together by Eerishika Pankaj (Secretary General), Pranjya Grover (Deputy Secretary General), Shubhi Singh (Under-Secretary General for Delegate Affairs) along with Mrs. Anjana Ambili who acted as the strongest brick in the wall and put in all her effort to make the MUN a brilliant learning experience. The International Press for LMGMUN 2016 was headed by Mitali Bhasin. There were four volumes of 'The Spectre', which was the official press release for the conference. The second edition of LMGMUN had five committees in all. The conference was held in Hotel Awadh. Committees like DISEC focused on the Reform of the UN Peacekeeping with emphasis on the creation of a standing UN Force; and SOCHUM, which discussed the 'Right to Religion' with pre-eminence given to 'Religious Manifestation'. Both the sessions saw the participation of prestigious schools from the city, which included La Martiniere College, St. Francis College, The Millennium School, Study Hall and more. Other schools from all around the country also graced the conference with their participation, like Scindia Kanya Vidyalaya, Gwalior, The Doon School, Dehradun and many more. The previous two sessions of a successful conference at LMGMUN inspire us to yet again work in the direction of excellence.
